GRANVILLE HIGH SCHOOL ℘ Granville, Ohio

EDITOR: Betty Hanby

ASSOCIATE EDITOR: Ellen Reeder

ADVISOR: Mr. Irvine Chotlos

To a true southern gentleman with sincerest appreciation we, the senior class, dedicate this Blue and White of nineteen hundred and fifty-five. He is more than a good coach and teacher; his devotion to true sportsmanship, leadership, and his friendship have won the high regard of us all.

For his sincerety, ability, and loyalty we gratefully present this yearbook to Mr. Don Miller.

The senior class thanks you, Mr. Miller, for your constant confidence in us.

MR. GREENE

MR. SMITH

Without the help and guidance of our superintendent, Mr. Greene, and our principal, Mr. Smith, who work together in perfect harmony, our years in high school would not be so memorable. They work out our problems and make us all a part of our school.

Thank you, Mr. Greene and Mr. Smith, for giving us these happy years at G.H.S.

Class Prophecy

Today, August 18, 1975, many alumni have returned to G.H.S. for a great celebration—the laying of the cornerstone of the new high school building. Your reporter for today is a former teacher of the class of '55, which is in charge of the celebration. I will withhold my name, however, so no one will know how old I am. There are many people here today. Across the way I see the refreshment table which is under the direction of Betty Hanby, who is now an experimenter for a famous pie-making company. The food was furnished by David Sutton, manager of Welsh's Grocery. Helping them are Yvonne Robberts, owner of the largest number of Mercury cars; Peggy Teaford, who teaches people how to grow tall; and Helen Davis, who helps girls grow their own dimples. I learned from these girls that Jean Jones could not come today because her blonde-haired twins have the measles.

There are quite a few booths here today. I see that Naomi Dunaway, a noted designer of earrings, is selling some of her products; and Alice Jungling, owner of the local beauty salon, is giving free permanents to the girls. In another booth, Dawn Miller is selling her Dutch shoes; and Don Kauber, Einstein's successor, is giving electrical demonstrations. Sitting in a chair beside the refreshment table is Doris Cordray, now the physical education teacher for girls as G. H. S., who fell and broke her leg last week while jumping rope.

There is a group of people standing over there talking. Let's go over and see who they are. Why there's LeRoy Cramer and Dale Hill. They are now co-proprietors of a Before-and-after Reducing Salon. Talking to them is John Ricciardo, who I understand is now teaching people how to drive without brakes; and Laddie Foster, owner of a "How To Catch Them" School for Boys.

I might mention that today's publicity was handled very well. Many posters were made by Diane Burchard Artists' Training School; and handbills were printed by Martha Davis, typewriting speed champion, and Jane Rhodeback, a very efficient private secretary.

I was just told of a few more alumni who are absent today. It seems that David Kreider, our Honorable Secretary of Agriculture, is in Butzville helping with a new herd of horses. Larry Blackstone, head lighting technician for a new Broadway play, could not be with us because of a performance. The National President of 4-H clubs, Jane Lantz, is in Washington, D. C., for an annual conference; and another member of the old class, Donna Baker, inventor of the silent way of talking, didn't make it here today. It seems that she couldn't make the people of TWA understand where she wanted to get off. Speaking of airlines brings up a reason for the absence of another classmate, Judy Shields, an airline stewardess who is on a flight to Paris, France. On that plane also is Sylvia Philipps, co-owner of Thomas Diesel Motors.

There is another booth over there. Why, it's Mary MacCombie, and she's giving away some of her basketball-loving cats that she raises. Martha Ickes is showing some of the girls her unsuccessful method of bleaching hair.

Maybe I should take some time here to tell about some of the entertainment we will see today. The celebration will be started by Barbara Remmele, soprano from the Metropolitan Opera House who will sing our Alma Mater. She will be accompanied by Jack Dudley, world-famous pianist (who plays without a candelabra). Later, Ronnie Graham, the leading romantic singer in the country, will sing a few songs; and David Hartsough will show us some of his world-famous black magic. Let's hope he doesn't make Miss Martin disappear. Tania, a leading actress for "old lady" roles, will give a reading of GRANDMA SIMPLE.

Dear me, can't these boys stay away from mechanics for one day? Dick Martin is telling a group of boys how he teaches jet flying to any fast character; and Del Davis, president of Harley-Davis Motorcycle Co., and Tom Williams, leading Ford salesman, are in a discussion on how they can can combine their products.

There are a few more people we should thank for making today possible—first: Bernice Fryman, part owner of the Replogle Construction Co. who lent some of her equipment, and John DeVault, proprietor of the local Sunoco Station who donated the gas for the trucks. Then we can't forget Ralph Massie, for without Ralph, who owns a taxi line, many people wouldn't be here today.

We just received word that John Gibbud, our own nature-boy, was injured slightly while on a canoe trip. Phyllis Strimple, head nurse at Whisler, is being sent to care for him.

Goodness, what is going on over there? Why, Evelyn Foster is showing how she teaches new drivers at her Drivers' Training School. The girl standing there with the children is Nancy Pickering, governess to our President's grandchildren. Talking to her are Ellen Reeder, gossip collector for Louella Parsons, and Jodie Price. Jodie was recently selected pin-up girl for the ROTC at Ohio State. Standing aside from this group are Garnett Watkins, with all her little sonnies, and Maxine Shafer. Maxine now teaches sports announcing at G. H. S.

Just setting up his booth for free demonstrations is David Pendergast, a world-famous men's hair stylist. Helping him is Carl Pinkerton, who I understand is the only person to finish the "Indianapolis 500" on no wheels.

Oh, yes, some more entertainers. Ruth Smith is the accompanist for the leading romantic singer in the country; and Barbara Ochs and Mary Aiice Clark have brought their rodeo to town especially for our celebration. Looking around, I see that two more of the old gang are missing. As co-wardens of B.I.S., Jack Pheneger and Kenny Moss were unable to be here. So that we will have pictures to go with my editorial, Richard Heddleson, our local "Casey Crime Photographer," is offering his services for the day.

Well, I see that they are putting out the food, and being the great eater that I am, I'd better be signing off. See you at the next celebration.

Through The Years

Nineteen hundred and fifty marked the halfway point in the century, and it also marked the halfway point in the school life of our class, because we entered G.H.S. for the final stretch of our education together. All of us Seventh Graders entered school activities eagerly . . . games, Homecoming Parade—"Sports March On" . . . Miss Spillman's home economic classes . . . girls' party at Prices' . . . magazine sales—second and fifth places . . .We tried everything.

The high school became more used to us and we became more used to it! Superstitions on Homecoming . . . Girl Scout hayride . . . canteen . . . square dancing . . . class party at Spring Valley.

McKean and Union students entered our ninth grade class—welcome! Our boys entered football and basketball . . . chorus attracted many of us who liked to sing . . . Minstrel show (Charleston, anyone?) . . . Class party at Spring Valley—splash.

Many of our fellow students entered Thespians and Y-Teens . . . some of our boys played varsity football and basketball . . . Homecoming float—Doorway to Success (we won second prize) . . . "High Noon" . . . "George!" . . . Class party at Tania Martin's—more fun!!

Everyone noticed the busy Juniors selling refreshments at the football games—umm, good. "Meet Me in St. Louis" . . . Drivers' licenses . . . class sponsored hayride and square dances at Laylan Grange—swing your partner . . . "Roman Holiday" . . . "Stalag 17" . . . "From Here to Eternity" . . . Glenn Miller . . . Eddie Fisher . . . Junior-Senior Prom on Mary 28, 1954, Granville Inn—Maytime . . . Joby Lanning . . . Bernice Fryman's party. Maxine Shafer, Dick Martin, and David Kreider were chosen as delegates to Girls' and Boys' State, respectively.

Our final year at G. H. S. Jodie Price, our Homecoming Queen was kissed by Tom Williams, our class president. Senior Scholarship test . . . World Affairs Institute . . . No school because of snow on March 14 . . . "On the Water Front" . . "A Star is Born" . . . "Country Girl" . . Grace Kelley . . . Marlon Brando . . . "The High and the Mighty" . . . Our last spring vacation . . . senior reports, everybody ready? . . . Spring play, "The Curious Savage" . . . Senior Revolt Day . . . George Gobel—I'll be a dirty bird! . . . prom-dance, anyone . . . Baccalaureate, we're nearing the end . . . the last exams . . . Graduation . . . the future.

Granville Alma Mater

So, here's to dear old Granville
Here's to the Blue and White
O, may we always cherish,
All its standards ever bright.
Yes, here's to dear old Granville,
We raise our voice in song,
To tell to all from far and near.
To Granville, we belong.

Class Song

To Granville High we proudly raise,
Our song of loyalty and praise.
Our grateful hearts will e'er return
With thankfulness for all we've learned.
The friendships dear, we'll ne'er forget
The pleasures, toils, we'll not regret,
And someday hope that we may prove
Our deepest thanks and gratitude.

The Tiger Man	? ? ?

This year's fall play, "Tiger House" by Robert St. Clair, was presented the 18th and 19th of November in the high school auditorium.

The play, a mystery-comedy under the direction of Mr. William Calvert with the help of Peggy Williamson, concerned a young heiress and her newly-acquired estate. Mystery Manor, the home of a former spirit median, was the scene of many hair-raising events. These, along with Aunt Sophia and her lost teeth, kept the audience in a constant uproar.

The spring play this year, "The Curious Savage," by John Patrick, was presented on May 6 and 7.

Mrs. Savage was left ten million dollars by her husband, and she wanted to make the best use of it, in spite of the efforts of her grown-up step-children to get their hands on it. They committed her to a sanatorium, hoping to bring her to her senses.

The humor in "The Curious Savage" was based on the fact that the people in the outside world acted more insane than the people in the sanatorium. The play kept the whole audience on the edge of their seats all the way through.

The play was under the direction of Mr. William Calvert with Diane Burchard as student director.

Third Row—John Sellers, Jim Harrison, Dave Sutton, Jim Unger, Alan Larimer, Earl Strimple, Mr. Calvert.

This year has been one of the best for the Thespian Club. On October 9 new members were taken in and on January 4 more were admitted. In December a very successful sock-hop was held. On March 4, four one-act plays were given. These plays were directed by students. One of these plays went to district contest at Westerville, Ohio. The year was climaxed by a highly successful dance.

Mr. Calvert was the club sponsor.

Nancy Jinks.

The Y-Teens have had a very busy and exciting year.

We sent six girls on a study trip to the United Nations in New York. It was a wonderful trip, and the girls all had fun and brought back many ideas for the club.

We had several meetings to which we invited all the members of the upper three grades. Our panel discussion on youth problems was one of these. Another was a talk on teen-age drivers and general traffic safety. Everyone enjoyed and benefited from these discussions.

Besides these activities, we had our traditional ones. We made our trip to the county home; we had our dance, our heart-sister week, our pearl service; and we were in charge of the Thanksgiving program.

Miss Miley, our advisor, helped us greatly in making this year so successful.

Majorettes

Let's all give a salute to Granville High School's majorettes. They did a marvelous job this year strutting, twirling, and doing their dance routines.

Martha June Wolford, their new mascot, brought a lot of applause.

We owe credit to our head drum majorette, Judy Shields, who led our band this year.

The Granville High School chorus has done a marvelous job this year.

On December 11, they had the pleasure of going to the Neil House in Columbus, Ohio, to sing for the Ohio Music Education Association.

On February 15, members of the choir had the honor of attending the annual Music Festival at Ohio Wesleyan University in Deleware, Ohio.

The chorus entered the District Contest held March 26 at Newark, Ohio. They received a one rating, superior, which enabled them to attend the State Contest April 23 at Ashland, Ohio.

The ensembles and solo groups participated in the State Contest at Kent, Ohio, April 2.

In May, the chorus sang for the annual Spring Concert.

We, members of the chorus, are very proud of Mr. Durst, our director. We would like to congratulate him on doing a fine job. We would also like to thank Jack Dudley, a senior this year, who has helped us to success with his accompaniment on the piano.

(Queen)

JUDY SHIELDS

Granville's 1954 Homecoming was greatly enhanced by the beauty and graciousness of the Queen and her attendants, traditionally chosen by the senior boys.

A bonfire-pep rally, a snake dance, and an assembly aroused spirit for the game, and, as a final touch of perfection, the Blue Aces won.

Coach Don Miller's football squad had the best season since 1951. The Aces racked up six wins, one tie, and three losses, winning second place in the newly formed Mid-Buckeye League. Although the team wasn't extremely heavy, due to fine team play and speed the Aces lost only to Johnstown, the League champions, in league play. Tackle John DeVault, Fullback Kenny Moss, and Quarterback Dick Martin won positions on the Mid-Buckeye League all-star team. The following awards were presented to these players at the annual football banquet: Kenny Moss, "Team Captain;" Dale Hill, "Most Improved Player;" John DeVault, "Best Sportsmanship;" Dick Martin, "Most Valuable Player." The leading scorer was Quarterback Dick Martin. Although thirteen seniors are graduating from the team this year, good football seasons are expected in the future because of the Little League Football, fine backing from the community and school, and the experience gained from the Reserve Football schedule played this year.

Our thanks go to Coach Don Miller and Assistant Coach Nemetz for their hard work in forming a fine football system from the fifth through the twelfth grades. Our thanks also go to Trainer Dixon for helping to make our season a successful one.

The 1954 Granville Reserve squad took the field last fall with the same winning spirit that their varsity teammates showed. The squad was composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores who were for the most part inexperienced. The games provided the Reserves with valuable experience gained by playing other teams. Many of these boys will be in the varsity ranks next year, due to the gaps left by the seniors.

Exempted Village Tournament

Granville	49	Columbus St. Marys	55

In compiling their best season under Coach Paul Nemetz, the Granville Blue Aces copped the coveted first place in the newly-formed Mid-Buckeye League with a four-won and no-loss record.

Also, in games played against county teams, Granville had a record of nine wins and no losses — handing county champion Johnstown two of its three losses for the season. Of the six defeats, most of them came at the hands of Class "A" and strong class "B" schools.

Co-Captains Kenny Moss and Jack Pheneger won starting positions on the Mid-Buckeye all-star team, while Jim Unger was named second-team center.

At the annual basketball banquet, Kenny Moss was named "most valuable player;" Tom Williams was named "most improved player;" Jack Pheneger was named "top foul shooter."

The loss of Moss, Pheneger, Hill, and Williams will be greatly felt next season, but indications are that the Blue Aces will have another successful season.

Coach Don Miller's reserves didn't have a spectacular season in the won-lost column this year, but they showed definite improvement through the season.

The "Little Aces" won five while losing twelve of their games through the season, but the boys had a lot of spirit.

Fourth Row—Bobby Grunden, Wesley Schroer, Rollie Patterson, Alva Shomaker, Dick Scott, Leslie Bowman.

With veteran hardballers Moss, DeVault, and Graham back this year, a good season is expected. Again this year the Aces are handicapped by not having a diamond of their own. However, several home games will be played on Denison's diamond.

Golf

One of the best golf teams in Granville's history is expected this year, sparked by Hill and Pheneger, returning for the fourth year, and Martin, Moore, and Hannum, returning for the third year. The same team won third place against stiff class A competition in last year's district tourney. With another year's experience this team, which started together in the fifth grade, should go far together in competition.

Coaching the team again for the fourth straight year is Paul Nemetz.

Varsity Cheerleaders

Who are the ten girls you always see at the football and basketball games? That's right—they're the Granville High School cheerleaders who are always right there to cheer the Blue Aces on to another victory.

This year they had a new advisor, Mrs. Maurer, who has done a fine job, and they all want to thank her for her many ideas and the time she spent with them.

Reserve

Informal Banquet Scenes

Football

Basketball

Granville's Mid-Buckeye Conference championship cagers were honored with a banquet held on March 23, 1955.

Mike Gregory presented his Most Valuable Player trophy to Kenny Moss. Tom Williams was given a trophy for being the most improved player on the squad. Jack Pheneger was awarded the foul shooting cup for having the highest percentage of shots made. Mr. Gregory, donor of the championship M-B trophy, presented it to Coach Nemetz, whose cagers won the circuit title with a mark of four victories against no losses.

Jack Swinderman, cage coach at Denison University, was the speaker of the evening, with M. H. Eikenberry as toastmaster.

Swasey Chapel at Denison

Denison University is a member of the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges. Privately administered and financed, this college of liberal arts and sciences was founded in Granville in 1831.

It offers a variety of courses leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Music, or B.S. in Education.

Students may qualify for teaching certificates in general subjects in secondary education, music education, or physical education.

Many students make carees in business. Others prepare to enter medical, dental, law, engineering, or theological schools elsewhere or enroll in graduate schools for careers in college teaching or other specialized professions. Air Force ROTC is elective for men.

One of the best equipped small colleges for library, laboratory, and athletic facilities, Denison is widely recognized for its standards. Its student body of high calibre is again approaching a ceiling of 1,300, almost equally made up of men and women drawn from more than 30 states and several foreign countries.

The Denison Business Council, representing 15 nationally known firms, offers students an opportunity for practical experience and guidance during their college course and in summer vacations leading to permanent employment on graduation. Field trips to these firms and to other areas supplement classroom training.

Denison attracts many visitors to its Summer Theatre and to summer conferences held on its spacious 350-acre campus largely located on College Hill, on routes 16, 37, 161 and 661.

A Big Step Forward

Graduation from high school means just that—a big step forward for thousands of young men and women who make up the class of 1955.

To all of you who have taken this important step go sincere congratulations from the 3,000 people of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation in Newark. Moreover, we hope that this is only one of many forward steps—big and little—that you will take in the years ahead.

As a company that has moved steadily in its fifteen-year history, we are constantly aware of the contributions to our progress that have been made by those who only a few years ago were completing their high school courses.

We join with industry in the hope that many of you will continue your schooling and in so doing will give thoughtful consideration to the technical fields where opportunities for advancement are at their highest level.

But, most of all, we hope that whatever your choice may be it is made in the realization on your part that a marketable ability is the only true security.

HERMANN THE CLOTHIER.

5 South Third Street

A garage man answered the distressed call of Maxine, whose car had stalled. He made an examination, then informed her that she was out of gas. "Will it hurt," she asked. "If I drive it home with the tank empty?"

Jim: What a glorious painting! I wish I could take those lovely colors home with me.
Diane: You will. You're sitting on my paint box.

Lowell: You ought to see the beautiful new altar in our church.
Sylvia: Lead me to it.

Bernice: Why is the hand of the Statue of Liberty eleven inches long?
Barbara: If it were one inch longer, it would be a foot.

Allen: I'm thinking of asking some girl to marry me. What do you think of the idea?
Leila: It's a great idea, if you ask me.
